Drug Crack Down Continues

The Grossmont Union High School District has continued its crackdown on the narcotics problem this week with the extension of its jurisdiction in such cases to students who are off campus.

Students do not have to be engaging in or attending a school function in order to be under the coverage of the district's strict dope jurisdiction. It involves any student, anywhere, and at any time engaged in the violation of narcotics laws or for the passing of information about the likely source of marijuana or other harmful drugs.

Before the new ruling last Tuesday, the Grossmont drug policy was limited in its coverage to student violations which occurred on campus or at events sponsored by the school.

New state laws have left the door open for individual districts to decide to what extent it intends to enforce its jurisdiction. The law allows for the districts to choose whether or not to handle cases off the campus. It is believed that the Grossmont District is the first high school district to assume the broader policy.

The new policy gained the recommendation of Superintendent of the District, John T. Warburton, who believes the stricter policy will help to convince students that it doesn't pay to get involved in drugs or even be associated with them.

The drug problem became a serious one last year when a number of district students were apprehended for involvement with the harmful drugs. The district had previously adopted a drug education program at all the eight highs in the area and had also enacted a policy under which students face expulsion for use of the drugs. The district policy not only covers the sale of drugs, but also the possession and use of marijuana, narcotics or other dangerous drugs. It also prohibits the passing of information about the drugs.

Other school districts had refused to accept many of the students who were expelled from Grossmont High for involvement in drugs.

In other action by the board of trustees, two pieces of land within the district were involved in decisions made by the governing body.

Dr. Warburton was given authority by the board to take the legal steps in selling over 10 acres of land near Monte Vista High in Spring Valley. Initial appraisal of the property amounts to $60,000. Any action on the sale of a 50-acre parcel of land in Santee which is currently the site of the Grossmont District Continuation School has been postponed until after the bond election on Oct. 17.

The Santee land has been appraised at $350,000 for the 20 commercial acres and the 30 acres zoned for manufacturing purposes. The land is located at Mission Gorge rd. and Cuyamaca st.

The land is available for sale following the decision that the continuation school on site is inadequate for minimum educational facilities.

Helix Water Heads Seek Appointment Grove Sportsman's Ducks Grace S.D. Social Table

Lemon Grove residents were warned not to be unduly alarmed if they suddenly see 200 duck decoys wing their way out of Art Berry's Sporting Goods Store today. They will be "migrating" westward to Hotel Del Coronado, where they will alight on tables in the main ballroom being decorated for the 24th annual San Diego Ducks Unlimited party tonight.

The papier mache decoys, bedecked with cattails, will cast a glassy eye at the gourmet dinner of roast quab, wild rice and wine, which will be set before some 900 sportsmen and their wives.

The decoy-decorating idea was conceived by two former La Mesa residents, Lewis Dowdy, secretary of the 1967 San Diego DU steering committee, and his wife, who heads the decoration group. Both now live in La Jolla.

When Berry, whose store is located at 7809 Broadway learned of the need, he donated the decoys en masse to DU as his contribution to aid the waterfowl cause. The "blocks" will add the necessary ducky motif to the gala party, now considered a top San Diego social event.

Buford Enrolled In U.S. Foreign Trade Institute

Mr. S. Thomas Buford, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Buford, 8129 Lincoln st., Lemon Grove, is now enrolled in the June, 1968 class of The American Institute for Foreign Trade, Phoenix, Arizona. He is a graduate of San Diego State College where he majored in Marketing.

The American Institute for Foreign Trade, an affiliate of the American Management Association, is the only school in the United States devoted exclusively to training students in all phases of international business.

Over the years students have enrolled for postgraduate work at AIFT from every state and 34 foreign countries. Graduates have entered the school from 800 colleges and universities in the U.S. and another 161 institutions abroad.

Since its founding in 1946, AIFT has graduated 4,000 students, of which 1,800 are or have been serving overseas in 85 countries. Another 1,500 are in domestic phases of international commerce or are completing company training before assignment abroad.

CoC to Pursue FD Ambulance

Bob Browne, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce Tuesday appointed a fact-finding committee on a Fire Department operated ambulance.

The decision came after Charles Hesser, a long-time Rotarian, said that members of his club had shown sympathy toward such a project.

Protest Continues Over Recreation Annexation

A two hour protest hearing before the San Diego County Board of Supervisors.

Over 1,200 protest signatures were added to the 160 letters of protest already sent to the board as the residents of Highlands, Bancroft, and Casa de Oro school attendance areas made their appearance.

One of the three areas, the 126-acre area around the former Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce building, was disapproved for annexation by the County board.

A written protest of more than half of the residents of the other two areas, the Highland-Bancroft or Casa de Oro, will force the elimination of annexation proceedings in those areas.

Support for the annexation propositions at the hearings came from the Parent-Teacher Association and also the citizens advisory committee.

A recreation program at four schools for younger children and a year-round young adult program at Mt. Miguel is included in the present district, south of the proposed annexation.

More Safety Is On The Way

It is strange that federal intervention is used least where it was intended — for the control of the things that can't be controlled by the various states.

There is a glimmer of hope that the federal is beginning to stir itself in at least one of these fields — that of public safety.

Dr. Richard E. Marland, Chief, Injury Control Program, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told the nation's lawyers the other day help is on the way for unwary householders who are subjected to an increasing number of injuries resulting from the use of common household products.

He acknowledges that the problem, in part, stems from the tempo of new products and wider choices available to consumers in this new, highly mechanized era.

The American home, he reminds, is more highly mechanized today than many factories were a generation ago.

For example, the availability of portable heating devices for use on the move and in recreation is a typical phenomenon of a rising prosperity and the attendant increasing leisure time.

Increasing numbers of consumer products involving both heat and power today polish our teeth, shine our shoes, carve our meat, scratch our backs, open our cans, and dry our clothes.

But many such products can be dangerous if improperly designed or carelessly used.

Case in point: the power lawnmower. A tremendous labor saver that will injure more than 100,000 persons this year by cutting feet, or throwing objects, or shocking the user.

More than 35,000 will suffer burns this year from pulling cords of appliances. In many cases these appliances are filled with hot substances, some of which are top-heavy or unstable. These appliances can be upset easily with only a slight pressure on the cord.

Another 30,000 will be burned by extension cords and electric wall sockets.

A type of injury occurring surprisingly frequent is scalding. This happens often to the extremely young and extremely old. 25,000 such injuries a year suggests that built-in safety features could be developed.

Glass doors, used in contemporary home and building construction, account for 40,000 injuries a year involving people simply walking through them because they didn't know they were there. A famed pilot, hero of the Vietnamese conflict, walked through one of these doors in a Shelter Island motel last year and spent several weeks in a hospital.

The President refers to present controls as "a patchwork of frequently uncoordinated laws, incomplete and uneven in coverage." He avers these do not adequately protect either the interests of the consumer or those of the supplier or the producer.

Undersecretary and Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology in the Department of Commerce, J. Herbert Holmton, recently told the U.S. Senate: "One thing is abundantly clear: Some way must be found to lessen the incidence of these injuries, or to prevent unreasonably hazardous products from reaching the consumer in the first place. . . . The consumer has the right to expect that everything feasible has been done to design in a household product the optimum between utility and safety."

Instead of messing with our school districts, our hospitals, and our farm labor, the federal government could do much better providing protection in the areas where it is needed — and wanted.

Valley Kiwanis Pancake Spree On Saturday at Mount Miguel

Final week for the sale of tickets to the annual Spring Valley Kiwanis Club Pancake Festival is underway, with the event set for Saturday, at Mt. Miguel High School cafeteria, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Getting the final week's activity under way, was Cynthia Davis, "Miss Spring Valley" for 1967, who appeared at the Sept. 27 breakfast-meeting of the club and purchased a ticket from Bob Divine, the club's first vice president. Afterward "Miss Spring Valley" was photographed with the two team captains for the ticket sales: Burt Hodge of Team "A" and Glenn Darling of Team "B". And looking on was Gil Buxton, general ticket chairman. A good crowd is expected at the Festival, which has been a huge success since its beginning in 1962, each year on the increase, until last year the servings were between 1500 and 1800.

The menu will consist of pancakes, sausage and coffee and milk for the children. "Seconds" may be had on pancakes. Tickets are selling for $1 donation for adults and 50 cents donation for children under 12.

The Sept. 27 Kiwanis meeting was in the form of an interclub session with representatives from the Chula Vista and El Cajon clubs. It was brought up that a door-to-door campaign to sell Pancake Festival tickets would be held today and tomorrow.

Two special guests were introduced at the meeting: Key Club Lt. Governor Wayne Rafesberger, who gave a report on the June convention in Louisville, Ky.; and Key Club Zone Chairman, Dayton Bennett, who pointed out the benefits of boys belonging to Key Clubs at the various high schools. He urged all Kiwanians to support Key Clubs and to make an effort to attend some of their meetings.

He stressed the point that Key Clubbing is one means of combating our youth problems. He urged that Kiwanis Club members try to attend a Key Club workshop, being held at Crawford High School, San Diego, on Saturday, Oct. 7. Also introduced was Don Walker, Key Club advisor, who is celebrating his 11th year in that capacity.

The guest speaker was Bob Divine, the club's program chairman and vice principal of Monte Vista High School. He stressed the need for the passage of the $6 million bond issue on Oct. 17. It will take a two-thirds majority to pass the issue, Divine said. If the bonds fail to pass, it will mean possible double-session, boundary changes, bus charges, and worse, "standing room only" in many of the high schools.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE: Cynthia Davis, Mt. Miguel High senior and the current Miss Spring Valley, is having a hard time trying to decide from which Kiwanis member she will buy her ticket to the club's pancake breakfast to be held at Mt. Miguel Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Offering tickets to Miss Spring Valley are, second from left, Burt Hodge, team 'A' ticket selling captain, and far right, Glenn Darling, team 'B' leader. At far left is ticket chairman, Gil Buxton.

Film Highlights Laity Sunday At Lemon Grove Congregational

LAITY SUNDAY will be observed in the 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. services at the First Congregational Church, United Church of Christ, this Sunday, according to the Rev. Ernest M. Fowler, minister. The day will also be marked by a 5:30 p.m. supper for church members and friends sponsored by the church's Youth Fellowship and prepared by Vincent Ponce de Leon, specialist in Spanish-American foods.

Laymen and women of the church will conduct worship and preach in the morning worship. The sermon will be offered by Mr. Lenville Bryant, a school teacher. Women of the church will serve as ushers, thus changing the usual picture of the setting in which men care for the ushering functions. This is an annual observance in the local church. It is designed to remind all people of the importance of the "laos", the dedicated people who, through non-professional, carry vital assignments in the church. They are also the ones who carry the mission of the church out to the community.

Girls Band Opening Many Eyes—And Ears

Four Spring Valley girls and a San Diegan are making a lot of noise in the area these days and it's hard to say whether the male population will recover.

The girls have taken over a man's job in the entertainment field, and from the progress they've made in a few short months, the boys better get used to being second best.

The "Flower" is a five piece, all-girl band. The "Flower" is a shocking pink outfit, with a flower trim. And the flower is a three-month old band that already has an appearance on the "Sun-up" show to its credit.

That's not bad for five girls—the oldest one's 19—without the services of a manager.

Anne Reis, 16, got the ball rolling when she talked the idea over with two musician girl friends, Rose Mary Averna and Jo Anne Meglich.

"I had been wanting to get an all girl band for a long time, but I just couldn't find the girls I needed to fill out the band," explained Miss Reis.

"When Rose Mary and Jo Anne went along with the idea, I had the two guitarists I needed," she added. "All we needed now was a drummer and a singer."

The drummer came in the person of Pat O'Connor, the oldest, and the "outsider" in the group. O'Connor is a San Diegan native.

"We went to Ozzie (Ozzie Wizzell) of Ozzie's Marching Chargers and asked him if he knew of a girl drummer who could use in our band," said Anne. "And Ozzie told us about Pat."

Pat has proved to be a welcome addition, because of her musical talent and her many connections. Pat has provided the infant group with bookings at all Navy base clubs in the San Diego area.

"I played all the clubs with boy bands, so I knew who to get in touch with to get the jobs," explained Pat, who wears a green outfit in contrast to the pink worn by the other members.

Cathie Brollini, 18, completed the quintet when she became the vocal fifth of the group. She's been singing for years, but this is the first time with a band, boy or girl.

Miss Averna and Miss Meglich, at 15, are the youngest members of the fair-sexed rock-and-rollers. They play the lead and the bass guitar music, respectively. Both have been playing guitar in bands for about two years.

"Actually Rose Mary, Jo Anne and myself have been playing together close to two years in some boys bands to years," stated Miss Reis. "We gether."

Miss Reis, leader and organist, presents an interesting picture. She has studied classical piano all her life and now is playing organ in a modern rock-and-roll band.

The group just recently finished an engagement at the Cinnamon Cider on El Cajon Blvd. and is preparing for a run at North Island Naval Air Station.

Two of the girls came up with answers when asked why the band chose the name "Flower."

"Flowers are dainty and sweet and gentle—and so are girls," Pat O'Connor philosophized.

"It just seemed like a good name for a girls band," stated Anne Reis.

Five dainty, sweet, gentle girls are making a lot of noise around here.

They're opening a few eyes... and ears.

Utt Proposes New Privacy Legislation

Congressman James B. Utt has introduced legislation designed to protect the right of privacy of all people in the nation. H.R. 13185 would limit compulsory answering to U.S. Census takers to 7 basic questions and would remove penalties for failing to answer any others, the 35th District's Republican Congressman reports.

Utt stated that he has never quarreled with the principal of a decennial census to determine the name, address, relationship to head of household, sex, date of birth, race or color, and marital status of all persons living in the U.S. These are necessary to meet Constitutional requirements, particularly the proper apportionment of the House of Representatives.

"Such questions as to whether one has an air conditioner, the condition of his plumbing or whether he shares his shower has no relationship to the Constitution. Neither do such personal questions as former marriages, still birth, activities five years ago and income," Utt noted.

Census officials call attention to present law which provides for confidentiality of all information, restriction of its use to statistical purposes only, and a prohibition against its use for taxation, regulation, and/or investigative purposes.

Parents Protest Accident Report

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ott of 2210 Moroso st., Lemon Grove, objected to a story that their daughter, Geanne, 15, had "walked into a car" driven by a 16-year old girl, on Blossom ln., Spring Valley.

Mr. Ott contended that his daughter was "hit by the car" and that she had not walked into it. He said an investigating patrolman had not appeared on the scene until 15 minutes after the accident.

He said that there is nothing conclusive that she "walked into the car." He explained only time and investigation will prove anything conclusive. Geanne was taken to Grossmont Hospital in the Spring Valley Fire Department ambulance, and she has a "broken pelvis," Mr. Ott reported.

The Dimmer View Night Court Will Be Popular

A working man's court — Judge Richard Donovan's night traffic court — opened Monday night to a nearly full house.

There were 70 persons there, plus an almost identical number of clerks, marshals, city and county people having something to do with courts — and Assemblyman Waddeh, the man who was finally able to bring a night court to San Diego.

The proceedings were not as grim as a day court and there was little tendency on the part of the defendants to argue — exceptions being a couple of cab drivers who appeared to be experienced enough to finally recognize a losing battle, and a white-haired secretary who claimed she'd rather pay than to suffer the inconvenience of coming back to be heard.

She paid $15 with $10 suspended on condition that she not become a traffic lawbreaker again for six months.

The night court, to be held every Monday at 7:15 p.m. in Traffic Court "A", will prove popular. The penalties appeared reasonably light and that will add to the popularity. Daytime courts (night court is for accepting a guilty plea or setting a daytime hearing if the plea is not guilty) are costly to the defendant. He loses a $25-$50 a day income to appear in court. That, added to the penalty, makes a day in court an expensive activity.

Judge Donovan told the opening night audience that 50c was being added to each $20 of the fines to pay some of the added costs of night court. There is the regular additional charge of $3 of each $20 for driver improvement school and he sentenced all speed violators to a four-night course.

Judge Donovan sped through the courtful of cases in less than three hours without rushing any defendant. He assessed fines and dismissed charges on a "no foolishness" basis with each defendant having time to state his case. Even little old ladies who were fined for going too slow in left lanes seemed satisfied with Donovan justice. Those who wanted to make an explanation were grouped for hearing after more routine cases were disposed of.

Assemblyman Deddeh, who introduced the bill by which the court became a reality, said he was "very pleased" with the opening operation. He said it had a most useful place in San Diego's society.

This publication has regularly editorially urged the assembly to provide a night court for San Diego.

It was very interesting that Judge Donovan, who preceded Waddeh Deddeh as assemblyman, became the first judge of San Diego's first night traffic court.

Fire, Ambulance Crews Kept Busy in S. Valley

Spring Valley firemen were busy this past week with a structural fire, several grass fires and a public service while the ambulance crews were on the go with car accidents, a bad fall and several persons taken to hospitals for illness.

A house, belonging to Donald Welch, was burned in the amount of about $300 and contents at about $20 on Sept. 29, in a flash fire. Welch was slightly burned in the fire. According to the fire department report, the fire began in the garage, when gasoline fumes were ignited by a water heater. The Welch home is located at 468 Broadview.

A second fire call to a house happened on Sept. 30. A short in a wire of a freezer at the Mary Jacobs home, 10118 Del Rio rd., caused slight damage to the freezer.

L.G. Hippie-Singer Jailed For Credit Card Abuse

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A long-haired, hippie-type singer from Lemon Grove was ordered to county jail for nine months on Monday by Superior Court Judge George A. Lazar for failure to appear at a preliminary hearing on the charge of unlawful use of a credit card.

He is George Heflin, III, 21, whose nominal address is that of his parents at 2020 Bonita st.

The credit card charge arose out of Heflin's using a card belonging to the father of his girl friend. It was dismissed when he pleaded guilty to the charge of not appearing, another felony.

Heflin also faces a charge of smuggling marijuana.

The probation officer wrote that when Heflin appeared for his interview he had long hair, was barefooted, had wide leather wrist bands and a leather ring.

Heflin was already on probation for the two misdemeanors or crimes of petty theft and malicious mischief.

Organized 14 years ago in San Diego, the team consists of 15 bugles, five drums and a cymbal. Their repertoire ranges from marches through musical comedy airs.

Following the team's performance, Mills delivered an inspirational speech to students. His "Sun-Up" program appears regularly on Channel Bowling Week is October 8-14. 8.

NOBODY KNOWS MY AILMENTS

"Dr. Marcy, I've been to many doctors, but none of them seems to know what's the matter with me."

This has been the patient's opening remark so many, many times in our office. He or she, arrives fully convinced that something terrible is wrong, but that all doctors are duds because none of them have been able to make the correct diagnosis or prescribe the right treatment.

In my articles we frequently quote research scientists who agree with us that your head, heart, stomach, or kidneys, etc., could hurt as a result of pinched or irritated nerves.

Regardless of what your condition has been diagnosed, or called, your chiropractor looks for, and usually finds the trouble in the spine — spinal curvature, vertebral displacements, etc., which interfere with normal distribution of nerve energy and Nature's intelligent control of all bodily functions. These spinal misalignments must be corrected and nerve lines set free before you can enjoy permanent relief from mysterious pains.

All sickness has a cause. The sickness is merely an effect. To get well the cause must be removed. This case from my files will illustrate my point:

After four years of almost daily headaches and shaky, tired, worn-out, crying spells, this thirty-nine-year-old minister's wife decided to try the MARCY CHIROPRACTIC OFFICE after several other doctors' efforts failed. I found her extremely nervous, irritable, and jumpy at the slightest sound. She also complained of nagging low backaches and tension pains in her neck and shoulder that interfered with her sleep. She had difficult periods, hot flashes, frequent urination, indigestion, gas pains, shortness of breath and chest pains.

My nerve instruments located nerve blockage in several areas of her spine and X-Rays enabled me to make proper corrections. As the nerve pressures were removed, Nature restored normal function and her miserable symptoms gradually disappeared.

This amazingly successful case history is not a blanket guarantee for anyone. Yet, such outstanding results are behind the modern trend toward chiropractic. If you are still suffering in spite of your efforts, investigate. It only takes a few minutes to see what nerve interferences are causing your symptoms. What can you lose except your ill health?

Watch for next week's article.

Matadors, Monarchs Vie for Valley Title

For five years a football game between Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista was a mere formality brought on because of scheduling. Last season formalities were thrown aside, and so was Mt. Miguel, as the up-and-coming Monarchs stunned the Matadors, 26-17 for its first victory in the six game series with their Valley opponents.

Now it appears there will be some competition for the "Spring Valley Champions", with the king to be crowned tomorrow night at Mt. Miguel following the first Grossmont League tussle for the two local teams.

Coach Ben Cipranic's offense-shy Matadors will be seeking revenge over the homecoming loss to Monte Vista last season, while the Monarchs, under the leadership of coach Dave Fager will be out to protect a five-game winning streak that extends from the last four circuit tilts, last season and the Monarch's opening-season win over Mission Bay last week. As early as the beginning of last season a one-game winning streak would have been a dream at the Monte Vista castle.

The Matadors enter the game with a 0-1 season mark, following a 7-0 loss to Kearny last week, which saw the locals failing to get on the scoreboard for the fifth consecutive quarter. Mt. Miguel was shut-out in the one quarter it played in the Grossmont Carnival.

Cipranic will have three year veteran Jerry Lowery calling the signals for his offense against a tough Monarch defense. Lowery could do nothing with the Monte Vista offense for three periods last year before starting a Matador rally that fell short.

Lowery will direct his air attack to flanker Ross Ellis and split end Mike Tyer, while the running game will be centered around the gallops of halfback Jeff Buckner, who provided the extent of the Matador's ground attack against Kearny.

Mt. Miguel's rugged defense will be anchored by the stand-out line work of guard Dan Filippini, along with Bo's Jacobson and Rich Hoffman. The Matador defense stopped Kearny advances except for a last-second Komet touchdown near the end of the first half.

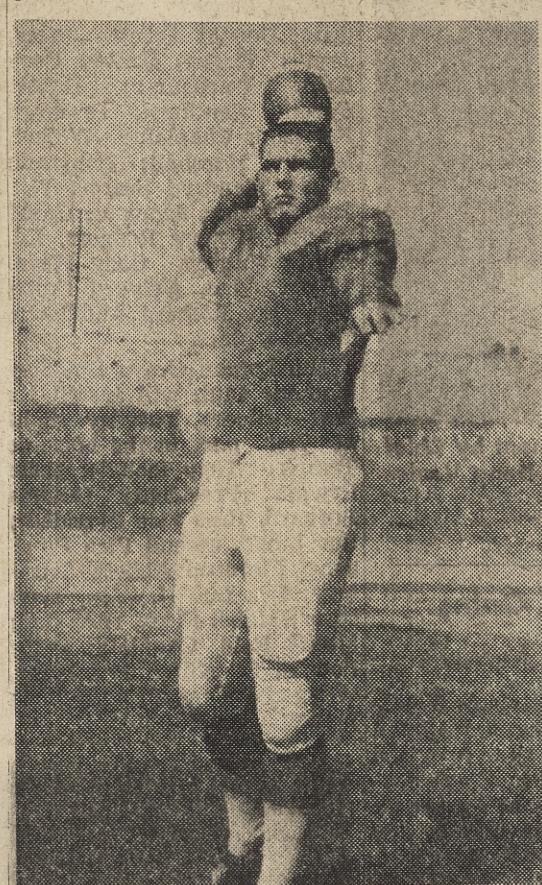

Monte Vista's offense rolled into high gear in the opener last week with Maughn Kent and Chuck Downing, a pair of senior standouts, providing the fireworks. Again, they will handle the brunt of the Monarch attack tomorrow night.

Kent, by far, the best runner on both teams, rambled for three touchdowns on the ground last week and scored another on a pass from Downing. Phil Duncan will run from a halfback slot for the Monarchs, with Gordon Rock also slated for offensive back-field duty.

MIGUEL PASS-SNATCHERS: Mt. Miguel's offensive punch will depend largely on the pass-catching ability of these two Matador receivers. Expected to be on the receiving end of quarterback Jerry Lowery's passes are flanker Ross Ellis and tight-end Mike Tyer.

TWO-BARRELED ATTACK: Monte Vista's versatile offense will feature the passing of senior quarterback Chuck Downing, left, and the running of fleet halfback Maughn Kent, right, when the Monarchs face Mt.

Miguel tomorrow night on the Matadors gridiron. Kent rambled for three touchdowns against Mission Bay last week, while Downing fired a scoring pass to Kent for the other Monarch score.

Pop Warner Homecoming Scheduled for Oct. 14

At a board meeting last Tuesday evening, the Los Toros Pop Warner Football directors discussed plans for their homecoming events. All teams will play at home on the Mt. Miguel High School field beginning at 4 p.m. October 14.

For the Homecoming activities, each team has selected one of their cheerleaders for queen candidate. The girls will be selling Los Toros Football decals with each decal representing a vote. The girl selling the most decals will be crowned Homecoming Queen with the two runners-up as Princesses. Those selected as candidates are Tammy Keyte from the Midgits; Camilla Alesi from the Brahmas; and Dina Taylor representing the Longhorns.

Other between game activities will include entertainment by several local bands, a noted television announcer, and Emil Karas, one of the famed Chargers.

The Midgits will be playing La Mesa; The Brahmas will play Balboa, and the Longhorns will play San Diego.

In action last weekend, all the Los Toros teams won their games. The Midgits beat South Bay 32-6. In the first quarter, Tim Miller scored on a quarterback sneak. A second touchdown for the first quarter was made by Frank Sosa on a pass from Miller. Slay made the extra point.

In the second period, Sosa scored again on a pass from Miller and to duplicate the action of the first period, Slay repeated the extra point.

Hitt Grabs Second Spot At Cajon

Super Stock car action goes into its final month at Cajon Speedway's three-eighths mile banked racing oval with a wide open battle for all positions in the championship point standings.

With Vance Butler out in the driver race, Tex Kimbrell of Imperial Beach looms as the odds on favorite to repeat his feat of 1965, and take home the title.

Standing in his way will be Russ Bullen of San Diego, who won seven in a row to grasp the title from Butler in 1966 by 22 points on the final night of action.

Last week all of the top dogs took second best to Bill Butts and Jim Hitt as they took one two in the feature 30-lap main event to show the fans that any one of the top twenty cars can make the winners circle.

Special attraction of the evening will be the popular Kiddie Rides during intermission that puts the kids on the track in the racing cars for the thrill of a life time for a slow ride on the 3/8 mile paved oval.

Attack Stutters In Helix Defeat

Hoover's swift rugged defense held Helix scoreless for three periods while intercepting three passes, and went on to defeat the Grossmont League team, 21-12.

Helix' quarterback Greg Gleason rallied the Highlanders for two last minute touchdowns after the game had already been decided. Gleason fired 38 and 19 yard scoring tosses to Mike Vidal to account for limited Helix attack.

Helix picked up just eight first downs with 16 yards rushing for the entire evening. Fifty-five yards in penalties also stymied the Highlander attack.

Childrens Classes Offered in Grove

Four classes will be offered to the Lemon Grove youth by the Children's Creative Workshops, a non-profit, non-sectarian group. Registration will be Monday at the Encanto Methodist Church for classes meeting Oct. 16 through Dec. 5.

Kent, a senior halfback who stands 6-0 and scales 180 pounds, recorded all four Monte Vista six-pointers, running for three and gathering in a Chuck Downing pass for the fourth. His runs totaled two, thirty-five, and two with the pass play covering six yards.

The Monte Vista defense held their opponents scoreless until the fourth quarter. It took a 75-yard return of a Monarch kickoff to get the lone touchdown for the losers.

Smog Bill Exemption

WASHINGTON — Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, is leading a drive in the House to permit California to continue to set its own regulations for controlling air pollution from automobiles.

With Rep. John E. Moss, D-Sacramento, Van Deerlin is planning a House floor amendment exempting California from proposed federal requirements for motor vehicle smog abatement. Adoption of the amendment would mean that California could keep on determining its own standards, without having to go to Washington for approval.

"Compared with California, the federal government is a Johnny-come-lately in the critical field of smog control," Van Deerlin said. "The California standards are far more stringent than what Washington has in mind, so any attempt to make our state conform with the rest of the country could only hinder our own anti-pollution fight."

Disclose Income Van Deerlin Urges

WASHINGTON — The disclosure of personal finance, a practice now followed voluntarily by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, and a handful of other Congressmen, is winning new adherents in the House and Senate and may soon be required by law, Van Deerlin said this week.

A study just released by Congressional Quarterly lists Van Deerlin as one of only 16 House Members who have made such disclosures in the past three years. The House has a total membership of 435.

Van Deerlin last placed a statement of his income and assets in the Congressional Record on June 29, 1966. He said at the time that "I feel the people of my community are entitled to know that I am free of financial ties which might influence my actions as their Representative."

The San Diego Congressman explained that his practice is to make a disclosure shortly after each primary election. His next statement, therefore, will be published in the Record following the June, 1968, primaries, in which he expects to be a candidate for re-election.

MAIL BAG

Dear Editor, What this country needs is a nickel's worth of good sense. The sense to see who the enemy really is. The real enemy of our country is ourselves.

We sit still and watch for so much what is going on in this sick society, when we should be up and doing. The pen has always been the means to tell those we have elected to power we do not like the turn that events are taking. The voice of the people is a power to reckon with, and must be heard far and wide in this land.

We have an election coming up. It is time to let the elect in Washington know where they stand, for good or ill. Our senators and congressmen, those who do work to bring better government to this land, deserve our praise and reelection.

We need new times and new ways to give our people a stable economy and a stable dollar, a dollar with silver backing again. To achieve all this we must have a thinking people. We must reject something for nothing and this sick society with the greatest weapon and country or individual may have, our vote.

It is never too late to save freedom. Come cast your vote in the greatest election of all time. 1968 is the year of decision.

Lets all be all American Regina Elm

County Fair Changes Name To S.C. Expo

DEL MAR — Beginning January 1968 the San Diego County Fair will be known officially as the Southern California Exposition, Fair Manager Roy Welch announced.

"The San Diego County Fair has grown to regional stature during the past three or four years, and although we certainly are a county fair in every respect, we are now much more than that," he explained.

Welch cited the fact that the fair has grown to the point where it has thousands of entries from out-of-county areas, including a number of western states.

"I am happy to say the fair has more than kept pace with San Diego County's growth and maturity," he remarked, pointing out that the fair topped the 400,000 mark in attendance this year for the first time, with a total of 412,148 visitors. This exceeded the all-time mark by 55,000.

Casa Blanca Goes Electronic

Casa Blanca Convalescent Center, located at 8851 Broadway, Lemon Grove, is now linked with the first computer system in any San Diego County Convalescent home. An NCR 160 permits patients to know all about his account instantly. The machine is connected with a NCR 500 computer located at Casa Blanca's main office in San Diego, where information is stored on all 866 patients who reside in the eight centers throughout San Diego County.

"We have made the transfer from manual to complete computer with no problems, not even a small one," reports Bernard Levy, Casa Blanca controller. "As Casa Blanca has enlarged to become the County's largest extended care centers, our ordinary manually-operated machines became outmoded," he said. "The future of this company lies in accurate and rapid accumulation of accounting data."

School Lunch Week to Begin Next Monday

School Lunch Week will be observed next week by the school cafeterias in the City and County districts.

The daily Type A luncheon will be served providing each child with one-third of their daily required foods, determined by the National Research Council. Each child receives two oz. cooked meat or the equivalent of protein; three-fourth cup of fruit, vegetable, or juice, with one rich in Vitamin A twice a week and one rich in Vitamin C each day; two teaspoons of butter, milk, and bread are very important part of the Type A lunch. The older students exceed these lunches by one-third to one-half the amount of the above foods.

The Mt. Helix Chapter of the American School Food Service Association has a film, "Starvation Without Hunger," available to PTA and other organizations by calling the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District, 469-6171.

Crusade Program Underway in S.D.

San Diego's United Crusade was honored for the first time by the major service clubs who joined in a special noon luncheon meeting at El Cortez Hotel last Thursday to kick-off the 1967 campaign.

In addition to Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary club members, United Crusade county-wide leadership and invited guests swelled the attendance in the International Room to over 800.

James Mulvaney, immediate past president of the downtown Rotary club, and president of the San Diego Padres, served as master of ceremonies.

Speaker at this kick-off meeting was R. Neal Luzier of Kansas City, Missouri, nationally recognized authority on sales, sales management, community fund raising appeals and public relations.

This year's United Crusade goal is $5,020,569 for support of the more than 70 health, human care, and youth serving agencies of United Community Services in San Diego County.

His training, which included five jumps from a C-130 airplane flying 170 miles an hour at an altitude of 1,250 feet, qualified him as a paratrooper. He also underwent intensive physical conditioning.

SEAMAN LORD

A program of physical fitness, military drill and inspections keeps the recruits mentally and physically alert during their training.

His Navy Classification tests will determine whether he will be assigned to a school, shore station or ship after his graduation.

SEAMAN DAVES
SAN DIEGO — Seaman Recruit Edward L. Daves, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Daves, of 8136 Exemption st., Spring Valley, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45 calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects: hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine combat forces.

MAIL BAG

Dear Editor:

I'm a soldier in the U. S. Army stationed in Vung Tau Vietnam. I've been here four months.

I've been a resident of Lemon Grove for approximately 12 years. My mother informed me that you will send me our new paper free of charge if I write, requesting the service.

I would greatly appreciate if you would send me the newspaper weekly.

Thank you very much.

Dear Editor:

I have always been proud of living in Lemon Grove and have extolled its praises far and wide. I have not had much occasion, in the past, to walk along main or side streets nor observe cleanliness, neatness, etc.

Today I waited for a bus at the foot of Canton, the last stop before Imperial. I had never caught the bus from that stop and chose it because it had a bench I had noticed and I was early. I didn't use the bench. It was almost hidden by weeds growing through the slits in the bench, as high as my waist. The entire area was covered with high weeds, paper, all sorts of debris. When the bus stopped, I had to climb through knee high weeds.

Entering Lemon Grove coming from College Grove, the entire approach is ugly, unkempt, littered.

I have heard acquaintances and friends tell me of such things and the things have mounted. What I am stating here is the result of my own experience. Walking along Broadway looking in stores and shops, I noticed erstwhile planters full of discarded cups, papers, bottles, anything anyone had they didn't want. And this is our main street! Other closed stores were in terrible condition, paint peeling, junk piled in windows, the entire area an eyesore.

I was shocked by this and by myself for not noticing all this before. Who is supposed to care for these things? Who decides whether the approach to a city is a well kept up inviting one, or weed filled littered with trash?

Others must have been as unnoticed as I. When you pass quickly in a car such things escape you. You have traffic to watch. When you enter a city by car you note only whether it is pretty or ugly, not the sordid details. Is there some committee or group who are supposed to see that such things are cared for and unsightly, dirty places cleaned? Or does it just go on and on as it apparently has, without anything being done?

I'd hate to have any visitors to our city see it as I have the past few weeks.

Sincerely,
Candy Walker
(Mrs. G. G.)

Dear Editor:

I read your article, the Dimmer View, about the Hippies. First I don't think they should be the one that the boys in Vietnam are mad at. The boys should get mad at the people like the printer who lives in Clairemont who comes home every night to see this show on the front lawn across the street from him and does nothing about it.

He must like what he sees or he would turn these people in; or is it that he is afraid to get involved. Afraid that the other Hippies will come after him and his family. Well if this is the reason then I feel that our fighting boys in Vietnam should be sore at these type of people than the Hippies. If we can't stand up at home and fight for the things that are right, how can we expect our boys overseas to fight for us and what is right.

Miss Betty L. Green
